Around the Square

By SEWALL CLARK.

When the supervisor's fence was in front of Sam Perloff's new Royal Drug site the other day we saw Sam and Ira Fox leaning over the boards, peering down as if they were looking into a deep excavation. Walking over to them we said: "okay, kids, we like to watch steamshovels too—where is it?"

Turned out there was no steamshovel, but to Sam the work being done there, at 82 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. between Dr. Nathan Jacobs' office and Attorney Noren Eaton's is just as interesting as if there were a whole army of digging equipment. The new drugstore that is being planned there is going to be quite something.

The only trouble with our conversation was when he said to Ira: "Don't look now, but we sure need a haircut." So then we started to walk away, to put off another day, with Ira's barber shop so close by, and with Sam and Ira ganging us on both sides we didn't stand a chance.

When we got home that night Sally said it was the best haircut we ever had in the family.

Haircuts often remind us of Ronnie Merritt who lives with his wife Hattie in that beautiful house up there in the hill with the magnificent view. Is it North Lima? We've known them for about 12 years but haven't the vaguest idea as to what their address is. It's up there west of the Dick Thayers' Wistaria Vine and the George Osborn place and it's right next door east of the Bill Wilcoxes' new home that is pictured with swimming pool in the current August issue of the magazine, "House Beautiful." So that's where it is.

Anyhow, haircuts remind us of Ronnie because we agree with him one hundred per cent when he says that, to him, the two greatest wastes of time are getting a haircut and stopping in at a filling station to buy gas for the car. Of course the guy is always running out of gas, and we, ourselves go walking the streets looking like a sheepdog, but that's beside the point.

Or is it?

A few years ago we ran a picture of Ronnie in the News because he had won several Toastmaster's contests. His subject was "Enthusiasm" and he told us about it one day when we were driving to a boat port beach. He believed that enthusiasm was probably one of the greatest things in this world. Anyone, he thought, who was enthusiastic about his job would never have too tough a time.

And while he talked about it we both became so enthusiastic that we almost crashed into the car in front of us.

Subjects like that ought to be confined to one's living room.

We still like the idea of enthusiasm, however. Like the day a few weeks ago when one of the most beautiful youngsters we've ever seen walked into the News' office and asked if we could make a photostatic copy of a pay check. She is the 15-year-old daughter of

Richard Lees Named Chief C.D. Warden

Appointment of Richard W. Lees to the post of chief warden was announced this week by Sierra Madre's associate director of civil defense, Dr. Dan D'Arcy.

Lees, a native Sierra Madrean, recently joined Realtor Harry A. Lange in an insurance partnership after being in the insurance business in other Southland communities since 1942. He is the son of W. R. "Bill" Lees, Sierra Madre's building inspector.

In his new civil defense post, Lees will be responsible for the creation of a complete block warden organization for the city.

"Dick and I are particularly anxious to get the warden service organized and trained," Dr. D'Arcy said, "since more and more civil defense leaders believe each community should be able to take care of its own problems in case of emergency—whether it be sneak attacks, earthquakes, floods or other natural catastrophes."

"For example, a revised civil defense survival plan has been adopted in Los Angeles to replace the former evacuation method. There, the CD Director, Col. Richard F. Lynch, said the new thinking discards the idea that 5,000,000 persons can be quickly evacuated from an area hemmed in by oceans and mountains and with only relatively few highways leading out of the Los Angeles basin.

"This has long been our thinking in Sierra Madre—that evacuation should be replaced by self-help. Consequently, Lees hopes to organize and train the many volunteers needed to prepare Sierra Madre to take care of its own problems in the event of a catastrophe. If we are in an unharmed area, these same volunteers could immediately begin working in a devastated neighboring area."

Georgene's Sold to Mrs. Ruth Blakeman

Woodson Jones' old stand at the corner of Baldwin and Kersting Court, which he occupied for so many years, will have a new occupant again next Thursday. The store known as Georgene's Flowers since November, 1954, will be taken over by Mrs. Ruth M. Blakeman of 125 E. Grandview.

Georgene Salisbury, now Georgene Walker since her recent marriage, owned and operated the flower shop in the hotel arcade for more than two years, then moved to the Kersting location last November.

"Georgene" was born in this vicinity, and has been a resident of this area all her life. She told The News she is discontinuing business in order to devote her time and energies to her husband and children, Genevieve, 7; Bill, 11, and Chester, 12.

Mrs. Blakeman is well known here, having lived in Sierra Madre for 23 years, 19 of which have been at the present Grandview address. Her two boys served in World War II. Milton, a lieutenant and photo reconnaissance pilot, gave his life to his country in China in 1945.

Edmund, now 30, has been an engineer since the war, and

Festive Tints for Mail Boxes On Postmaster's Color Spree

Charles E. Louk, our local postmaster, is going on a spree. But he is not going to paint the town all red, and presumably, his "bender" has the full sanction of Mrs. Louk. He intends a mild form of merry-making by painting the town's mail boxes a gay red, white and blue.

To inject still another color into the scheme, it may be said he has been given the green light for the red, white and blue. After many years of a nationwide drab green, the Postmaster General authorized the festive colors for all local postmasters who wished to have them. They are not mandatory, but when our "Charlie" saw the green light he said, "Let's go. Our boxes haven't been painted for five years, anyhow."

Should you fear the daubing of your private mail box, let's make it clear at once that the Washington bulletin applies only to the letter drop boxes belonging to the postal department.

The top two-thirds of the boxes will be painted red, the bottom one-third blue, and all letters white. When your reporter asked Charlie to stencil an American flag on them, too, he replied that he would like to, but at that point the green light turned red.

Bids for the job are open to any gay lothario, whether or not he is a painting contractor. This leniency may interest some retired gentlemen, to whom a few extra shekels may not be objectionable.

Postmaster Louk will accept the lowest bid, which must be submitted to him not later than Friday, Sept. 2, at 2 p.m., on application forms available at the post office.

"We will supply the paint," said Louk, "but you must furnish your own brushes and equipment."

Kindergarten Hours

Kindergarten hours at Sierra Madre City School have been changed from previous years. School Superintendent Skutt announced this week. Morning session is scheduled to begin at 8:30. Children are to report directly to the classroom, rather than the playground. Morning session ends at 11:25.

Afternoon hours are from 12:10 to 3:05.

Superintendent Skutt requested that children do not arrive early, as there is no playground supervision before 8:30 a.m.

The school's opening day is Tuesday, Sept. 13.

No Change in Metro's Bus Service for Kids

A communication from the Metropolitan Coach Lines regarding extension of service north to Grandview Ave., on Santa Anita Ave., was received by the Sierra Madre school district in answer to a request.

The school board had been asked by residents of the district east of Santa Anita to contact the company, since curtailment of the school bus presented a serious problem in transportation.

The letter stated that the company felt that such service was not justified. At present the bus turns south on Santa Anita, to Highland Oaks School. Consideration of the northerly route had already been given, according to the communication.

WARNING!

The Chamber of Commerce this week issued a warning to merchants to be on their guard against a young man who has been passing bad checks at local stores.

The man has identified himself as John O. Jonsten or Donald Johnston, 1366 Oneida, Pasadena, but it is believed both names are fictitious.

He is about 30, 5 feet 8 inches, husky, with dark hair and dressed neatly in sports shirt and slacks.

Civic Affairs Ass'n Holds First Public Meeting

Virginia Pittinger Gets National Prize

Virginia Pittinger, for several years a resident of Sierra Madre with her husband and family, has been awarded third prize for a short fiction story in a nation-wide contest by an authors' magazine, Writers Digest.

For her award, the Digest gave to Mrs. Pittinger her choice of several writers' conferences to which she is entitled to attend in an expense-free vacation. A total of 200 prizes was given after the judges had read 10,000 manuscripts over a four-month period.

Her prize winning story was based on one of her "Vignettes" of an Italian village which she contributed to The News early this year. Mrs. Pittinger does not know yet in what readers' magazine her story will appear.

The Pittingers now live in Glendora.

Photo Contest Sponsored by Kiwanis Club

For Kiwanis Kids' day, Sept. 24, the local club is sponsoring a photo contest, in which all the young photographers of the city are invited to test their skill in picturing interesting places or scenes of Sierra Madre.

Prizes will be awarded for the best five photos, and the sweepstakes winner will have his picture reproduced on Christmas cards. Proceeds from sale of the cards will be divided between the Kiwanis Club and the individuals or groups who sell them, the club using its share to help finance children's activities.

In announcing the contest this week, Allan J. Burgess, club president, urged all youngsters and youth groups to participate, saying that the contest would be a success only if many interesting photographs were submitted.

"Let's make this a big event," he said. "Everyone profits."

An entry blank will be found on an inside page in this week's News. "Enter today," Burgess said, "and watch this newspaper for further developments."

TENNIS CLUB HOLDS TOURNAMENT SUNDAY

Peter Cowell reminded tennis enthusiasts this week that the postponed tennis tournament will be held next Sunday. In the event the renovation of the courts is not completed the matches will be held at Marshall High School, Pasadena.

All participants will be notified by telephone.

Presents Resolution Asking For School Tax Increase

More than 30 persons representing many of the civic organizations of Sierra Madre were present for the first official meeting of the Civic Affairs Association held at the Highland Avenue school Monday night.

REGISTRATION FOR SCHOOL SEPT. 1-13

The offices of Sierra Madre City School will be open for registration of new pupils starting Thursday, Sept. 1, Charles A. Skutt, superintendent, said today. School starts on Tuesday, Sept. 13, and offices will be open for registration until the start of school.

Pupils for both schools—the main school and Sierra Mesa—should register at the main office, 141 W. Highland.

Kindergarten pupils must present birth certificates, or other proof of birth, showing age of five years on or before Dec. 2, 1955. First graders must show proof of attainment of the age of six years on or before that date only if they have not attended kindergarten in California, or if they have previously attended school in some other state. California kindergarten pupils will be admitted to the first grade without proof of age.

The offices will be closed Sept. 5, Labor Day, and Sept. 9, California Admission Day.

Crowds Enjoy Canyon Pool

The family tickets provided at the Canyon Pool on Woodland Drive this year have increased the attendance of family groups and given enjoyment of the pool facilities to many more persons, Harold S. Turner, manager, said this week.

This summer a family rate of $1 has been arranged for the first time, entitling "Mother and Dad" with all the children, admission to the pool on one ticket.

Since the pool's opening the average daily attendance was 108, the busiest day being Sunday, Aug. 7, when 210 people, 87 of whom were adults, plunged into the pool to cool off. The temperature rose to 94 that Sunday, after a sweltering 98 the previous day, the 1955 high record to date.

Turner warned patrons of the pool to be careful in parking their cars. Some drivers unfortunately have been given parking tickets by the police department, he said.

The pool will close its 1955 season after Labor Day, Sept. 5. Until then it is open from 1 to 6 p.m. daily except Mondays and Wednesdays, and from 7 to 9 p.m. Fridays. The Labor Day schedule is 1 to 6 p.m.

Swopes Badly Hurt in Eastern Plane Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swopes, 74 Vista Circle Drive, were injured seriously last Tuesday at Franklin, Pa., when their private plane crashed in take-off at Chess Lambert Airport.

A gust of wind caught the plane a few feet from the ground, spinning it sideways into a crash. The extent of their injuries is not yet known, but both were taken to Franklin Hospital.

Ground Breaking Ceremony at Methodist Church Next Sunday

Rev. Mark Crawford Trotter, interim pastor, announced at last Sunday's services at the Sierra Madre Methodist Church, 695 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., that next Sunday, Aug. 28, will be set aside for a ground breaking ceremony, commemorating the beginning of the construction of the new church.

The first unit to be built is the trilon, a 65-foot tower that will be located at the west entrance to the sanctuary. Steed Brothers Construction Co. are to begin work Monday, Aug. 29, and the tower will be completed in four weeks' time, according to William Heller, chairman of the building committee.

All members and friends are cordially invited to attend this important day in the history of the church.

This Sunday also will mark the last Sunday for Rev. Trotter, who was appointed to the church for the interim period of July and August by Bishop Kennedy, to fill the vacancy left open by the transfer of Rev. Raynor Smith. The new perma-

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in Mr. Shippey's column are not necessarily those of the editors and publishers of the NEWS. If you disagree with Mr. Shippey, who asks, "What Do You Think?", please address your letters to this paper or to Mr. Shippey. It is the intention of THE NEWS to stimulate provocative thought and what YOU think is an important part of our program in presenting both sides to public questions of the day. Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

Other day the esteemed Pasadena Star-News pictured a man proudly standing by a century plant 30 feet tall. We'll have to admit that is pretty good—for Pasadena. But it's an old Sierra Madre custom modestly to come up with a topper for the things about which some towns grow boastful. That began when Sierra Madre was very young, and Abbot Kinney built a handsome home in the Villa area—where he entertained Helen Hunt Jackson and other celebrities—and named it Kinney-loa. N. C. Carter came right back by asserting that his home on top of Baldwin Avenue was a few feet higher, and calling it Carter-his. Well, anyway, Mrs. Alfred Dewey informs us that she has six century plants, most of which must be around 30 feet tall. Sally isn't quite tall enough to measure anything that tall, and she won't try, for fear of disturbing the humming birds. Oh, yes, her century plants have been chosen by a whole colony of humming birds as superior places for nests. As the century plants are in bloom, and the humming birds look like flying flowers, they combine to make a show of unusual interest to nature lovers.

Speaking of things which beautify, seems to me the charm of Sierra Madre Boulevard is greatly diminished by some signboards which are out of keeping with the quiet and restful tempo of our town. Restful charm is what our real estate men try to sell, yet they do not all contribute to it. And there are other signs which seem more garish than they need be. We don't want to hamper anyone in the pursuit of his proper business activities, but I believe that more artistic and more dignified signs would help business rather than hinder it.

Plans for man-made satellites in interstellar space make us realize how fast the world is changing. I can remember when a popular recitation for grammar school kids was "Darius Green and His Flying Machine," a poem which ridiculed the idea that men could fly. Nearly 50 years ago, when I was a cub reporter addicted to writing verse, I got laughed at for these lines:

The time shall come, the time shall come
When some Columbus of his day,
Bold with great hope, and venturesome,
Shall sail away, shall sail away
Through unimagined miles of sky,
Which stretch unfathomably far
To reach in safety, bye and bye,
Some other star.

The time shall come, the time shall come
When all our worlds shall be as one,
When we shall know the peoples from
Unnumbered realms beyond the sun.
World unto world shall wisdom give
In ways undreamed, in years unsung.
This universe in which we live
Is very young.

By golly, it doesn't sound so crazy now as it did then! But, oh, boy! When we can't get intelligent enough to live peaceably on one planet, what shall we do when we have intercourse with a multitude of planets?

Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand REPORTS THE WASHINGTON NEWS

DEFENSE HEARINGS

My committee, that on Banking and Currency, has been holding hearings on a measure to extend the Defense Production Act. We have heard from Defense Mobilization Director Arthur Flemming, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, Assistant Defense Secretary Robert Lamplier and Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes of Los Angeles on various aspects of the problem. John Hamlin, of our district, testified to the needed Defense Department cooperation with small business on defense requirements. A proposal is included to bar businessmen from policy-making Federal jobs if they want to work without compensation. Clearly, as many witnesses have testified, this would deprive the citizens of some of the most selfless and devoted public servants it is possible to get. We need the best talent available to help operate this great Government.

HOLLYWOOD IN WASHINGTON

A Warner Brothers crew on location to film sequences for "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell," has made a big hit in Washington. One street shot tied up three intersections and a large street section with gawking spectators. Over 250 local people were recruited at $19 a day for the scene, but all their costumes of the 1925 period had to be brought from Hollywood. Other shots were made of my office, the Union Station, the Army-Navy Club, the outside of the White House, the Capitol steps and Senate Committee room 457. Five trucks, a crew of 70, director Otto Preminger and his staff, and two dozen actors, including Gary Cooper and Ralph Bellamy, came East for the nine days of furious activity. The only hitch came in shooting the outside of the Army-Navy Club. Everything was set up for the scene with Gary Cooper and the other actors in place, when a retired general walked out the front door into the spotlight and asked for a cab. He refused to budge for anything or anybody, saying, "But I always get it right here." So they stopped everything, rolled back the camera and lights, cleared spectators and chairs out of the way, and brought a cab right up to the front steps where the old soldier was standing. After this experience, they shot the interior scenes from 12 midnight to dawn, when all retired generals are supposed to be in bed.

FEMININE NOTE

For weeks I have been hearing words of enthusiastic praise from Berenice Hiestand and it's all because of her interest in the Capitol Hill Discussion Group, recently organized under the capable direction of Mrs. Everett Dirksen, wife of the junior Senator from Illinois, and Mrs. John Taber, wife of Congressman Taber of New York. Berenice claims it to be one of the most active and inspiring groups ever to capture her interest and from all reports the group is a sound one. It is comprised of the wives of our Republican Senators and Congressmen and meets bi-monthly at the Capitol Hill Club opposite the House Office Building.

Safety Belts

Safety belts in American automobiles have so proved their value that at least one state—Illinois—already has a law prohibiting the sale of new model autos unless they have belt attachments as standard equipment. Gov. Ed Johnson of Colorado recently included a similar measure in a far-reaching safety program he plans to take before the legislature.

One of the biggest boosts that safety belts have received is the announcement the other day by a large California insurance underwriter that, effective immediately, it will cut the cost of its conventional auto insurance by 10 per cent for policy holders who install two front seat safety belts. It is interesting to note that the company does not require proof that the belts be used. It is confident that the psychological effect of their presence will assure their use.

Whatever the means—law, financial inducement, psychology—it is encouraging to see the growing awareness that something must be done to cut down the terrible, costly toll of lives due to highway accidents.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

When that "mysterious stranger in town," to whom you refer in "Around the Square" (S. M. News, Aug. 18, p. 10, col. 6), asked you for a booklet "stating the facts about Sierra Madre," I wish he could have seen my copy of the 1954-55 "Sierra Madre Area City Directory."

On page 2, under "SIERRA MADRE," it shows as fine a compendium of facts about our town as any town can show in equal space. This page relates history, area size, social and religious institutions, recreational features, altitude, residential advantages, fire and police protection, assessed valuation, and transportation, such as it is—in fact, everything that the man should want to know, except the names and occupations of our citizens, and these are contained on pp. 6-96 plus yellow pp. 1-52 of this same "booklet."

Future "mysterious stranger" may have all of same by applying to Pacific Directory Co., Publishers, P.O. Box 596, Arcadia; tel. DO. 7-6315, as I did recently.

You are welcome to publish this letter if you agree that it might inform others about the factual contents of this book, which lies so close at hand and yet may be relatively unknown.

Even the Bible, I've been told, suffers a similar fate in some of the best of families, including those with the best of intentions!

Cordially yours,
E. N. VOORHEES.

Gas Buggy

For a contraption that would "never do anything more than scare horses," the automobile has been quite a surprise. And not just to the horses. Approximately 130 million of these machines have been produced since Duryea put together his first sputtering gas buggy back in 1893.

Mr. Duryea really started something, for the motor car has done a lot for America. It has provided the nation with good roads—and traffic jams; it has inspired the building of innumerable motels, hamburger stands, orange juice dispensers, and comfort stations which also sell gas. It has created millions of jobs and billions in bank loans to purchase cars. It has taken people off their feet—both those who ride and those who try to cross the street. Yes, a wonderful thing, the automobile. Some day we hope to get one paid for.

For the Birds

The next time you are tempted to call a dimwitted acquaintance "bird brained," pause. Pause and ponder the findings of Dr. Nicholas Pastore of New York, who, after a long series of tests has concluded that a bird's visual discrimination is equal to that of a human being, and that its brain is capable of far more complex performances than we humans have ever thought it could be.

Reminds us of the budgie which a Californian taught to beat its human inquisitors to the punch. The budgie, looking each visitor straight in the eye, starts the conversation with:

"I can talk. Can you fly?"

With BOB BROGGER

As was stated last week we're still pulling for the Yankees in that close American League race.

Glancing at the schedule, it looks as if everything is in Cleveland's favor. Starting with today, till the end of the season, the Indians have 21 home games and 13 games on the road. They play Chicago six times—two away and four at home.

Now the Yankees split with 17 on their diamond and 17 away. They play Chicago four times—two at Comiskey Park and two in New York. The Bombers then play Cleveland five times—three of them in the Cleveland Stadium. They wind up the season on the road, playing Boston three times.

In Chicago it's about the same story as in New York. The White Sox have 18 home

July Car Influx Sets New Records

Auto influx continued its record-breaking pace during July, as 229,140 cars entered the State, with 106,810 coming in at Southland points, the Automobile Club of Southern California reported today.

More cars entered the State and Southland last month than in any previous July, the club said.

The seven-month tally—also a record—shows 1,013,542 out-of-state cars carrying 2,727,713 passengers into the state with 552,503 of the cars bringing 1,484,284 persons to the Southland.

A semi-annual record was reported last month.

games and 17 away. Poor Boston plays 15 more times at home and they show their heels 13.

With Cleveland having almost everything in their favor near the close of the season, you can be sure that the race for the coveted pennant is going to be a photo finish. It's going to be interesting to see how Cleveland takes advantage of their playing at home four more times than the Bombers. "Tis the Time That Tells the Tale."

Overheard in the dugout . . . The Dodgers and their big lead fail to impress Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants. He insists that this isn't the best Dodger team. Durocher explains it this way:

"This is strictly a 30 day season. The Dodgers ran wild the first 30 days, and have managed to hold on to the pennant they gained then. That's all there is to it." (Yes, I would say to be "managed" fairly well. Nice of you to say that, Leo, ol' boy) . . . Russell Shedd of Rutland, Vermont, is still a boy, but he might well be Baseball's Iron Man of 1955. In an American Legion doubleheader against St. Albans, Vermont, Shedd pitched and won two shutouts in one afternoon. He won the first game with a no-hitter and then went right back and got a second shutout, although allowing nine hits. . . . Casey Stengel positively will not retire next year, which leaves Ed Wodrich of Sierra Madre looking for another team to manage next season.

LOIS JAFFARIAN'S engagement to Albert Cauchon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cauchon of Haverhill, Mass., was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jaffarian, 1050 Singing Wood Drive, at a swim party held at their home.

Howard Keel to Sing at First Pops Concert

Announcement has been made of the coming season of the Pasadena Pops Concerts, sponsored by the Junior League of Pasadena, at the Santa Anita Turf Club starting Friday, Sept. 9.

Howard Keel, one of the leading singing stars in films, will be guest soloist at the first concert. Keel has just completed a starring role in "Kismet" for M-G-M Studios where he is under contract. This will be his first appearance with the Pasadena Pops programs.

David Rose will conduct the 55 piece Pasadena Pops orchestra for the fourth consecutive year. The programs will be held on Friday evenings, Sept. 9-16-23-30.

Arrangements have been made to serve buffet suppers and light refreshments during the unique music programs. All proceeds from the concerts will go to various charity projects operated by the Junior League.

Tickets may be obtained by calling SYcamore 6-8850 or by writing to the Junior League of Pasadena at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel.

St. Vincent de Paul Special Works Told

A new St. Vincent de Paul Salvage Bureau telephone number for the northeast area was announced this week by Albert Tassi, bureau manager.

It is SYcamore 9-1127. The St. Vincent de Paul Society collects old furniture, clothing, newspapers, household goods and other articles to aid in its expansive special works program.

A portion of the proceeds this month will help send deserving boys from low-income families to St. Vincent de Paul Ranch Camp.

Chuan Art Show at Vroman's Pasadena

An exhibition and party for students, parents and friends of students is to be held this afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hugh Colvin, 336 Sturtevant Drive.

The party brings to a close the summer art classes taught by Mr. Chuan.

Fall art classes are tentatively proposed for children and adults. For further information, call Mrs. Chuan, CU. 5-1371.

Currently Mrs. Chuan is having an exhibition in the art department at Vroman's in Pasadena.

Mrs. Chuan leaves next week for San Francisco to arrange for an exhibition in September there. Her first show starts on Sept. 2 at the Glad Hand Restaurant, long known for its interest in the promotion of modern art.

She plans to remain there for two weeks, painting and visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Colin Edwards.

MARY MARTHA BRENNER, daughter of Mrs. William E. Stevenson, 179 N. Lima, will leave with her aunt, Miss Rosemary Nevels, this weekend on the first leg of her journey to Northern Norfolk, England, where she will spend the coming year.

FIRE FLAMES

By JAMES HEASLEY

When visiting firemen from all over the Valley came to Sierra Madre last Thursday, the new fire truck was the attraction of the evening. Many of the visitors are well acquainted with this particular construction and congratulated the local firemen and the City on their selection.

A broken door in front of the station also was a source of interest and many questions were asked. Until Councilman Pratt welcomed the firemen few knew just what had happened. The truth will out—and it was learned that the Chief during one of the regular morning tests was shocked to learn that the powerful engine will start whether the truck is in gear or not.

Being in the very lowest gear—with much power—the truck darted and leaped through the station door at the touch of the starter. The Chief has little to say as to what happened. He candidly states that he cannot remember.

Mrs. George Smith of Mountain Trail Ave. can probably give a much better description of the occasion. It was necessary for her to do a little leaping herself when the bulldozing truck made a swan dive toward her torso as she looked on. It was later determined that Mrs. Smith can take a shock without fainting.

The gathering in front of the station and around the truck was the visitors, so those who wondered now can relax. The same group later appeared at Hansen's Ford garage and they all didn't buy Fords. Carl and his crew of men were much inconvenienced by the affair, and we of the fire department are grateful to the fullest.

Special gratitude to "Alex" Muir for his patience in waiting, and for his full tone singing during and after the show. We now feel that the long sought quartet is in the making.

Even fire fighters are astonished at our good fortune. When told that the new truck has answered only one fire call, the firemen are amazed. They are immediately informed of the fire consciousness of our residents and of the cooperation of those who work for us by informing newcomers of the danger of fire. Only such teamwork will keep us safe.

Work firemen are ever alert for fire hazards. The assistance of the citizens is needed to eliminate fire hazards that are cached away unseen by the passing motorist. Please inform the fire department of any condition that may be hazardous. This is not being a "squealer." It is safety and we treat it without offending, or implicating the informant.

Tarwater-Mead Nuptials Aug. 19 At All Saints Episcopal Church

May LeCompte Mead, daughter of Mrs. Edwin C. Mead of Altadena and the late Colonel Mead, U.S. Army, exchanged nuptial vows Aug. 19 with Thomas William Tarwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Tarwater, 143 N. Lima, in the chapel of All Saints Episcopal Church, Pasadena. Rev. Reynold B. Boden officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, James Aldan Mead, wore a wedding gown fashioned of heavy all-over embroidered ivory crepe from India, given her mother by Hindu friends whom she and Colonel Mead met while stationed at Ft. Sherman Panama. Mrs. Charles Gregory of Alta-dena designed the dress and it was first worn by the bride's sister at her wedding 10 years ago.

A pearl wreath held the bridal veil in place. A gold cross belonging to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Edward W. Krieger of Washington, D. C., and Topeka, Kas., was worn by the bride and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and butterfly orchids.

Mrs. Stanley Schemmer Day of Jaspur, Ala., served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a champagne beige taffeta ballerina length dress. Miss Margaret Quick of San Francisco was maid of honor and wore a similar gown in amber shades. Both girls carried bouquets of spider chrysanthemums and magnolia foliage.

Following the ceremony, with 150 guests in attendance, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

After returning from a honeymoon in Northern California the newly married couple will make their home in Pasadena.

Five Sisters Meet For Family Dinner In S. Coutant Home

Also Mrs. Paul P. McIntire and two of four children, San Diego. All the women present at the pot-luck supper are sisters of Mrs. Coutant.

Unable to attend what was hoped to be a complete reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin, and two children, of San Diego, and Mr. McIntire.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wood, Pasadena, grandparents of the 15 children.

GARDEN NOTES

SHADE TREES FOR FALL COLOR

Part of California's special appeal is its comparative lack of cold, chilling winter weather. But because of its general climatic mildness there is lacking, too, the widespread changing of colors of shrubs and trees that herald fall's arrival in other areas of the country.

The California Association of Nurserymen points out, however, that fortunately there are several trees growing in California that will provide bright fall color. One of the most popular is the Kinkgo Biloba or Maidenhair Tree. The sole remaining member of a Chinese family of trees the Kinkgo features fan-shaped leaves that blossom light green in spring and turn a golden yellow in the fall. The deciduous Ginkgo grows in an airy manner, is adapted to all areas of the state (varying in height in each) and presents no serious pest or disease problems. Nuts of the Ginkgo are edible; plant only the male and to be sure of the tree's sex find a Ginkgo from cuttings or grafts.

Another lovely fall performer is the Liquidambar Styracliflua or Sweet Gum. Also deciduous it displays maple-like leaves that are soft green in spring and turn to shades of yellow and red come fall. The Liquidambar is hardy to zero, does well in near-desert areas and withstands salt air . . . all of which makes it very adaptable. It reaches 60 to 100 feet with a 20-foot spread.

Pistacia Chinensis or Chinese Pistache produces vivid red hues in the autumn, its leaves remaining long enough to be cut and used in fall branch arrangements. Pest free, long living and deciduous the Pistache grows to 40 or 60 feet with a 30-to-50-foot spread.

All-round fall color interest is provided by the Oriental Persimmon (Diospyros Kaki). Deciduous and slow-growing the Persimmon reaches 20 to 40 feet; its leaves are leathery and dark green turning yellow and red in the fall. Fruit of bright orange ripens after the leaves have fallen. Provide rich soil for fruit production.

GARDENER'S CHECKLIST

1. Plan for a winter vegetable garden—the fall rains will help it on its way. Plant cabbage, cauliflower, beets, turnips and garden peas.

2. Perennial plants clumps that are crowded should be lifted, divided and re-set.

3. Good winter color selections are Stock, Calendulas, Baby Primroses, Violas and Pansies.

4. Now's a good time to set in that new lawn. Get the seedbed prepared and sowed before the fall rains come.

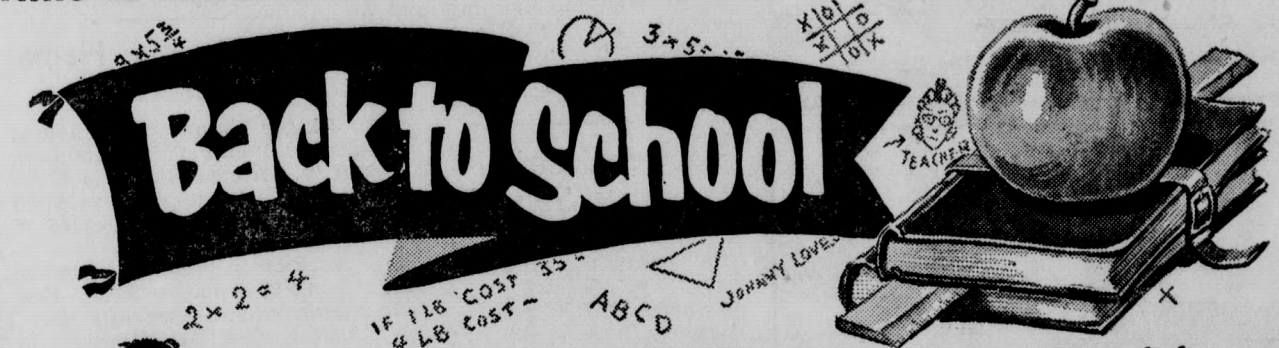

5. Bright color and soft fragrance are provided by the winter-flowering Sweet Pea. Plant it now.

Sermon on 'God so Loved the World'

"God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life," is the Golden Text from John (3:16) for the Lesson-Sermon on "Christ Jesus to be read in all Christian Science Churches Sunday.

On one occasion when some doubted Jesus and questioned Him concerning the Christ, He replied, "I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: And I give unto them eternal life." (John 10:25-28).

Correlative to this from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy are these words: "Jesus is the name of the man who, more than all other men, has presented Christ, the true idea of God, healing the sick and the sinning and destroying the power of death." (p. 473).

Dr. Schaper Returns

Dr. Robert N. Schaper returns to Bethany's pulpit this Sunday after having completed a successful ministry at Lake Sammamish Bible Conference and a much needed vacation.

YOUR HEALTH

FLUORIDATION

ROY O. GILBERT, M. D.
Los Angeles County
Health Officer

Ten years ago there wasn't a city in the United States that had a controlled fluoridated water supply. Since then, in the effort to diminish tooth decay in children, 1030 communities throughout the country have added fluoride to domestic water supplies serving a total of about 24 million people. But, although heartily endorsed by dental, medical and public health associations everywhere, the measure occasionally comes up against lively opposition. Considering the evidence in favor of it, this is a matter for some speculation.

Fluoridation of domestic water supplies for the purpose of reducing tooth decay in children was started both in the United States and Canada during 1945. From 1945 to 1948, the controlled addition of fluoride was begun in eight communities each "study" having a control city where no fluoride was present in the water and none added.

Statistics compiled on the experiment from 1945 to 1948 show an average of 40 to 50 per cent less tooth decay in children of the youngest age group when fluoride is added to the drinking water. This is comparable to what is observed in children of the same age who live in areas where the water has a natural fluoride content of one part per million or a little more.

The most recent report on its use comes from the pioneer city of Grand Rapids, Michigan, which was the first city to add fluoride to public water. The reduction of tooth decay in this community ranges from 76 per cent in the six-year-olds to 29 per cent in the 16-year-old group. The reduction is less in older children because they have not received fluoridated water in the very early formative years.

When fluorine is not present in the drinking water, naturally or otherwise, it is estimated that by the time children have nearly all of their permanent teeth, which is around 14 years of age, 40 per cent already have had at least one extraction. At the age of 16, the average boy or girl has seven teeth either missing, decayed or filled. It would therefore appear that fluoridation is a most valuable tool in preventive dentistry. What then are the objections to it?

One of the frequently heard arguments against fluoridation is the claim that it is injurious to health and may even, in the course of time be the cause of such disorders as cancer, nephritis, heart disease and brain damage. Each such possibility has been carefully investigated by competent scientists and each charge found worthless. The fact is that fluorine is already present in the water of hundreds of areas in the country and has been used by approximately four million persons for many years without causing any ill effects whatsoever.

As with magnesium, iron, copper, lead and other minerals present in water larger amounts than trace quantities of fluorine may eventually produce undesirable physiological effects. For this reason, the U. S. Public Health Service sets up recommended standards for drinking water and it may not contain more than certain amounts of these chemicals. In the case of fluorine, it may not exceed more than 1.5 p.p.m. (parts per million) and less than this amount in warm climates.

When more than this amount is present, mottling of the teeth may occur or excess fluorine deposited in the skeletal structure causing a bone density that may be undesirable but is nevertheless harmless. It does not make bones brittle or liable to easy fracture as is sometimes stated.

Nor does it constitute mass medication as is charged. The purpose of medication is to cure disease, whereas fluoridation is not used to treat or cure dental decay. It is a preventive measure that helps nature build stronger teeth and results in less tooth decay throughout the entire life of the individual.

On the other hand, those persons in favor of fluoridation state that chlorination of water and pasteurization of milk came in for the same criticism when first introduced.

People who most appreciate the value of money usually are those who have none.

School days are just around the corner of August, and Mrs. John Kane, president of Eugene Field PTA, is well aware of the fact, having lined up her executive board members and next year's program to start things off right come Sept. 12.

As is now traditional at Field, coffee and doughnuts will be served to mothers in the cafeteria the morning of Sept. 12, which you no doubt know is the first day of school.

The first board meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 14 at Mrs. Kane's home, 3840 Arboleda, with the first general meeting set for the evening of Sept. 21 in the cafeteria. The annual picnic is scheduled for Sept. 23 beginning at 4:30 p.m. in Brookside Park. Room teas, when room mothers will entertain other mothers of each class will be held during the weeks beginning Sept. 25 and Oct. 2.

"Teamwork, Past and Present," has been chosen as the topic for the first meeting, when parents will be allowed a peek at teaching techniques now and 20 years ago, through slides taken at Field last year in kindergarten, first, second and third grades, and slides made from two decades ago.

"TEAMWORK" THEME

The theme of the year's program will be "Teamwork Does It" and this year's parent education program, to be held in the fall instead of the spring, will delve into the subject of reading. ### Country Cousins Set Garden Gala

Clever bids are out for the gala garden party benefiting Casa Colina home for crippled children set for Saturday, Sept. 17, by the Country Cousins in the gardens of the Abernathy estate, 950 W. Foothill, Arcadia.

"The Country Cousins Go to Town," say the amusingly illustrated and embossed invitations, listing a floor show, Mr. and Mrs. fashion show, buffet, cocktails and dancing to Barney Sorkin's orchestra on the program for the evening. The affair will begin at 6 p.m. with a number of Hastings Ranch couples expected to attend.

Anyone looking for trouble can find it without much trouble.

American Legion Aids All Veterans

More than 50,000 veterans in American Legion Posts in Los Angeles County have been invited to participate in the 13th annual drive for rehabilitation funds in a mail campaign starting Aug. 23.

Revenue from the campaign, sponsored by the Legion County Council, will be earmarked entirely for rehabilitation activities, handled by a staff of 47 full-time employees stationed at all Veterans Administration centers and hospitals in Los Angeles County.

"The public is not asked to participate in this campaign," said County Council Commander Irl R. Goshaw. "This," he said, "is a function undertaken by the members of our 270 American Legion Posts in the County and demonstrates that we are willing to share a substantial part of the financial responsibility in the interest of our veteran population."

Legion service officers assist veterans, whether members of the Legion or not, in obtaining employment, filing disability, pension, insurance or other claims with the government in addition to assisting families and dependents of those who died in combat.

Boys Republic Needs Support

An urgent appeal was issued today by Boys Republic, well-known boys farm school near Pomona, for recreational projects sponsored by service clubs and other organizations.

Frank Graves, director of the 240-acre farm school, said the school's students are greatly in need of sponsored field trips and camping trips, tickets to sports events, music events and other activities outside the school's regular study program.

"In contrast to correctional methods employed in the past, it's now known that proper recreation is a vital factor in giving a person the correct outlook in life, in helping him to fit into society once more," Graves said. "Instead of the stern spare-the-rod-spoil-the-child attitude of the past we've found that a feeling of friendship and of being wanted can help a youth infinitely more."

Boys Republic, which has 130 teen-agers enrolled for the past semester, is famous for the work it has done in the past half century for nearly 5000 youths "who needed a second chance."

Less than 5 per cent of the boys who have attended the institution have been in trouble with the law after leaving the school.

Although the school has certain vocational courses and recreational activities to supplement the school's academic course, Graves said there was an acute shortage of activities which take the youths "away from the school to mingle with other people."

"It's this outside activity which we need so badly," he said. "We have some such projects sponsored by service clubs and other groups, but we need a lot more."

Russell Rosenes To Live in Avila

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rosene, 720 Skyland Drive, are leaving Sierra Madre after a three-year residence. They are moving to Avila, Calif., about the first of September.

The Rosenes have two children, Chris and Sandra, who attended Sierra Madre Community Nursery School.

MRS. THEO C. JAMES ATTENDS FAMILY REUNION

Safeway Prospects Continue Excellent

"The long-range prospects for Safeway continue to be excellent," said Langan A. Warren, president of Safeway Stores, in his semi-annual report released today to stockholders.

"Sales and profits are expected to benefit materially from company's construction program under which from two to three new stores are being completed each week. While average weekly sales of our retail stores in operation during the first 24 weeks of 1955 were $18,014 in the United States and $18,534 in Canada, sales in locations opened over the past five years now average $32,000 per week with individual locations ranging up to $100,000 per week."

Total net sales for the entire Safeway operation were reported at $887,210,738 for the first 24 weeks in 1955. This was 7.95 per cent higher than a net sales of $821,863,404 reported for the same period in 1954.

It also was announced that on June 18, Safeway operated 1,868 retail stores in the United States and 143 in Canada.

LACKS INITIATIVE

Usually the man who boasts of holding the key to the situation lacks the ambition to see it through.

Safety's Four Traffic Rules

Four types of traffic violations cause 62 per cent of all traffic accidents, according to Commissioner B. R. Caldwell of the California Highway Patrol. They are violations of the rules covering speed, right-of-way, improper turns and drunk driving.

"During the first seven months of this year 1,777 persons lost their lives in California traffic accidents," Caldwell continued. "This is an increase of 8.5 per cent compared to the same period in 1954 and is indicative of the continued disregard of the consequences of violating traffic rules."

"Traffic laws are safety rules designed to protect life and property," he said. "Far too many drivers develop a habit of cheating on the traffic laws. This cheating will sooner or later lead to an accident and, frequently, injury or death."

"In the interest of personal safety it would be well for every driver to check his traffic habits using the vehicle code as a measuring stick with special attention given to the four types of violations mentioned," he concluded.

There are too many political remedies and too few cures.

VETS ABOUT TO GO TO SCHOOL UNDER THE KOREA GI BILL SHOULD HAVE ENOUGH MONEY TO TIE THEM OVER FOR THE FIRST TWO MONTHS OF SCHOOLING BECAUSE UNDER THE LAW IT TAKES THAT LONG TO RECEIVE THE FIRST VA CHECK

Right Guide

Veterans Administration reminded World War II veterans that they have until July 25, 1956, in which to complete their GI training and until July 25, 1957, in which to apply for GI loans.

July 25, 1956, marks the end of the education program for all but a few of the World War II veterans now in training under the original GI Bill. GI training payments to schools and veterans will stop on that date even though a veteran may still have unearned training entitlement or be in the middle of a course.

The GI loan program, now at peak activity, has two more years to run, coming to end for practically all World War II veterans on July 25, 1957.

The small group of veterans exempted from these two deadlines are those who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Armed Forces Volunteer Recruitment Act between Oct. 6, 1945, and Oct. 5, 1946. These veterans have nine years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment to finish GI training and 10 years to apply for GI loans.

More than 90 per cent of the loans—$3,750,000—were for the purchase of homes. Business loans totaled 220,000 and farm loans numbered 67,000.

More than 7,800,000—or half of all who served in World War II—received some sort of education or training under the GI Bill since 1944.

Monrovia is reported by the National Automobile Club to have data processing and packing and citrus packing as its important industries.

LAW IN ACTION

STATUTE OF FRAUDS

Is a word of mouth contract any good? Much business is done by enforceable oral contracts. When you tell the gas station man to "fill 'er up" you are agreeing to pay for the gas. And such an oral contract is enforceable.

But as long ago as 1877, the English parliament saw that some types of contracts lend themselves easily to fraud. So they passed an act called the Statute of Frauds. The act said that certain debts and contracts—to be enforceable—had to be written and signed by the one who was to pay. The writing provisions aimed to protect each party against false claims by the other.

California, like other states, has adopted provisions of this old statute. They name certain contracts that must be in writing for courts to enforce them.

You generally cannot be held for the debt of another unless you sign a paper that says so. This also holds if you are executor or administrator of a dead person's estate. Courts cannot hold you to pay a dead man's debts with your own money unless you say so in writing.

Contracts to sell land or any interest in it should be in writing. Any agreement which, by its terms, cannot be carried out within a year from the time it is made, should be in writing, for example, a 16 month lease on a house.

Agreements where marriage is part of the bargain, to be enforceable, must be in writing. Suppose John promises Jane $10,000 if she will marry him. Jane must have the agreement in writing and signed by John to hold him to his promise at law.

But suppose John gives Jane $10,000 before the wedding, relying on her promise to marry him. And then Jane refuses to marry him or both agree not to marry. In this case, John may get his $10,000 back whether or not the agreement was in writing. John may recover all his money, or as much as the court or jury finds is a just amount.

Mutual promises to marry—written or not—cannot be enforced at law in California. Since 1939, our state has not recognized such "breach of promise" actions.

So, though most oral contracts are good at law, those we have listed should be in writing if you want the courts to enforce them. But when much is at stake, put your contract in writing anyway. Avoid the chance for fraud—or honest misunderstanding.

NOTE: The State Bar of California offers this column for your information so that you may know more about how to act under our laws.

Constitution Week Observance Co-sponsored by Rep. Hiestand

Constitution Week will be observed from Sept. 17 through Sept. 23 as a result of an approved resolution which was sponsored by Senator William Knowland and Representative Edgar W. Hiestand, both of California. The resolution invites the people of the United States to observe Constitution Week in schools, churches and other suitable places with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

Only recently Rep. Hiestand appealed through the press to citizens to write letters urging that the Constitution Week resolution be approved, for it had not been reported out of the House Judiciary Committee at that time. The Californian expressed alarm that "although there is a United Nations Week, there is no time singled out when we draw attention to our own invaluable United States Constitution, which limits big Government and protects each American citizen from tyranny."

After passage of the resolution, Rep. Hiestand said, "I want to thank the press, particularly, for splendid support of what Senator Knowland and I have been trying to do to move this resolution out of committee. The resolution by California's dynamic Senator Knowland passed the Senate and then came directly to the House floor for passage."

"This will provide an opportunity for us to reflect on the great value of our Constitution. No other document in history has been so important in preserving individual liberty and providing a framework within which the greatest nation the world has ever known could develop through the free action of the individual citizens. I hope that various organizations and particularly the schools will take advantage of this opportunity to pay tribute to this great social contract."

Organization List

Mrs. Alice Herrold, of Sierra Secretarial Service, 94 N. Baldwin, has prepared a list of all local clubs and organizations, giving the names of the president and secretary, meeting place, date and time.

She wishes to be sure no one has been omitted, so if any organization has been overlooked she asks that a member of the group telephone her at Custer 5-6226.

Mimeographed copies of the list are available on request.

Mrs. Blakeman was employed at Whitford's flower shop, near the Broadway store in Pasadena, and one of the best Pasadena flower stores, she said. She told The News, "I hope to keep up Georgene's fine quality, to better it if possible, and to do the very best job I can."

Around the Square

Othal Wells in the Arcadia "Oaks" and Mrs. Joseph Mook of North Hollywood, and she is so completely enthusiastic about her first pay check that she glowed like a blonde neon light.

Her name, she said, was Lynette Wells, and a girl friend of hers had called her one day and asked if she could help type some envelopes and make some changes of address for a finance company in Studio City and so she had worked six hours that Saturday and here was the check for 7.50 to prove it. Hot ziggy!

She didn't say that, but we did. She didn't say it because she was just a bit shy, but still well poised, and the other thing we learned is that you don't have to be loud to be enthusiastic. Lynette was just as quiet and demure as any little Miss could be, but there was enthusiasm exuding from her like the Northern Lights exuding from the Aurora Borealis reaching as far as Michigan and New Hampshire.

She made us forget deadlines and the need of copy (type-written, double-spaced, please). She made us wish that we could devote the rest of our nine lives to finding a photostatic machine for her wonderful check. But we knew that R. C. Lewis, Al Morgan, Dave Allen, or Herbie Ingraham at the Bank of Sierra Madre would know more about photostats than we could learn in a century. So we sent her over there.

And believe you us—we were so excited to see her go. Sweet enthusiasm!

So? What's new with you, Lou?

JOHN KENNEDYS VISIT BELMONT SHORE

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy and their daughter, Anne, have returned from a holiday at Belmont Shore, Calif. Mr. Kennedy is employed at Roess Market.

Park Concerts Big Success This Season

The Sierra Madre Community Band played to a crowd of over 600 in Sierra Madre Park Aug. 12, presenting a variety of numbers from "rock and roll" to classics. Roger Gray directed the group, with Herbert Hardin announcing the numbers.

Even the smallest Davy Crockett couldn't resist keeping time to "Dance With Me, Henry," while Tschakowsky was presented for the more conservative members of the audience.

Participants in the "lead the band" contest were Ralph "Pappy" Welch, Mrs. Ed Lupiani and F. R. Gilmore. Local merchants donated the prizes. Georges gave a corsage, which "Pappy" received, but not for long. Hopper's Jewelry presented salt and pepper shakers, won by Mrs. Lupiani, and Gilmore received an order for 14 gallons of gas from La Lone's Shell Station.

Next concert is scheduled for Aug. 26.

Plans also are underway for an exchange concert with the Pomona Band, to be given some time in September, when Stan-ton Selby will direct his group in the Sierra Madre Park and Roger Gray will take the local musicians to the Pomona shell in Ganesha Park.

The Sierra Madre Band is supported by funds from the Recreation budget, provided by the city, the school district, and the county. The director is a paid employee. Band members do not receive compensation, and most provide their own instruments. Three to five instruments used (whenever a musician is available) are the property of the school district. City and school personnel provide the "behind the scenes" labor.

Some music is purchased to build a permanent library, but at present much is borrowed from the UCLA music library.

Donations from private citizens also have been received to help support the band, and local merchants provided the printed programs for the summer concerts this year.

The musicians are from the entire San Gabriel Valley.

The band has represented Sierra Madre at many functions throughout the county, traveling by bus, or providing their own transportation.

On Sept. 24 they will appear at the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona for the third consecutive year. Other appearances have been made at the Pasadena Flower Show, La Crescenta German Picnic and Arcadia Golden Days.

For his last sermon, and in accordance with the ceremony, Rev. Trotter will preach on the well known text in I Corinthians where Paul talks about the body and its members, the Christian church.

Following the sermon the congregation will move to the front of the church property and participate in the groundbreaking ceremony.
